Winter Olympics 2014

The 2014 Winter Olympics are upon us! How many Olympic medals do you think Team USA will win? Give us your estimate for the final medal tally for Team USA (break down your estimates into Gold, Silver, and Bronze) by this Friday, February 14th and follow along with us as we post updates to the medal tally in the lobby! Whichever Youth Center member is closest with their guess at the end of the Games will win a prize! Also, be sure to keep an eye out for some Olympic-related events going on at the Youth Center!

Squares Competitions

Congratulations to the winner of our Superbowl Squares trivia competition, Jack McDermott! The Thursday before the Superbowl, Josh ran a trivia competition in the lounge at the Youth Center. Kids competed in trivia, and every correct answer gave that person their choice of a square on the board. A winner was crowned based on the scores at the end of each quarter of the Superbowl! If you want a chance to be involved in our next Squares competition, come to the lounge this Thursday, February 13th for our NBA All-Star Game Squares Competition!
